LUTHERAN CHURCH
19th Sunday after Pentecost--September 30, 2018

Our purpose as a church (it's why we exist):
We go out to transform lives through Jesus Christ.

Our Guiding Principles: (how we live together + make decisions)

(Disciple = learner)

God is God and we are not.

We are called to grow together as disciples: to forgive, to teach, to love.

Disciples are inspired by the Holy Spirit to take risks.

Disciples seek God's justice.

Disciples serve with no strings attached.

Disciples invite and welcome through loving acceptance.

We meet you where you are.

IF YOU KEEP UP WITH BRANDS, WE ARE PART OF THE EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH IN AMERICA (ELCA). WE'RE PRETTY PLEASED ABOUT THIS.

Dear Hopeful People,

River Conditions

On my sabbatical week this month, I visited a church community in south Minneapolis called Fabric. (I encourage you to visit this community or other church communities when you are out of town on the weekend.) They, too, are a young ELCA congregation, 12 years old, meeting in a middle school with no plans to build or ever "look like a regular church." As I sat and talked with their pastor the next day, he talked about what has changed in his 12 years of being a pastor and seeking out those who have never been part of a church community before. He narrowed it down to value. "People used to ask if there was value in being part of a church. They aren't even asking the question anymore." It's a sobering view point but it's right on. There are so many other ways for people to participate in life-giving activities and communities that add value to their lives. Church is just one of countless options and much of the time, we don't communicate well what the value is in being part of our community. Think about it. What would you tell someone about why they would find value in being part of River of Hope? I believe our central issue is that we don't know how to tell the story - the one we hear in scripture - so that people see that it not only relates to but is relevant to their lives. Because we, ourselves, don't have the words either. It's the best news we have to share, yet we lack the words to share it. Kind of ironic, right? We are on the cusp of something new. New questions, new ideas, new roads to travel down. It seems like a natural part of our 8 year life together so far - to look back to see where we've come from and then to look ahead, realizing that nothing looks the same. The church is changing and has to change because the terrain around us is radically different than we anticipated. In a town filled with steeples, roughly 50% of Hutchinson isn't part of a church and that number is growing faster than any church in town. Nobody's looking for a committee to join or an annual meeting to attend - they want something that means something. They want to be part of something that has value. We do too, don't we?

River of Hope, we've got the best story to tell. God loves you because that is what God does! It just doesn't get any easier. You've got 2 assignments. Be curious about scripture and read it. Don't burden yourselves with guilt or shame about not knowing enough. Just read a verse or a section or a chapter with this question: "What does this say about God? What does this say about me? What does this say about my community/the world?" And then don't worry if you're not sure of the answers. The questions are the important part. Pray. Pray while you're driving and doing yard work or walking or at work. Ask God for guidance or patience. Say thanks and help and wow - 3 of the most prayed prayers there are. What will God do with our story next?

We're in this together. Let's see what God has in store for us,

In faith, hope, and love,

laura
